What is the Timms Review?

The government launched the Timms Review of PIP last year.

PIP is a non-means tested cash benefit. PIP supports many people with the extra costs of a Disability or long-term health condition.

The Timms Review is the first full review of PIP. It aims to ensure that:

- PIP is fair and fit for the future in a changing world
- PIP helps support Disabled people to achieve better health, higher living standards and greater independence, including through participating in the community or employment
